

Samaria was trapped, and the people were hungry.

Four men went to the camp and found it empty.

The enemy had run away, leaving food and goods behind.

The people heard the news and came out to eat.

God ended the siege, and Samaria was filled with joy.