

God calls Abram to leave his homeland and promises to make him the father of a great nation. Though he and Sarah are old and childless, Abram trusts God. His faith is counted as righteousness, beginning a covenant that blesses generations.

Lesson: Trust God's promises even when they seem impossible.