

Jerusalem was safe behind its strong walls.

An army surrounded the city for a long time.

Soon, the people grew sad and hungry.

At last, the city walls were broken open.

The people left Jerusalem and remembered God.