

Two spies came to Jericho to see the city.

Rahab hid the spies safely on her roof.

The king's men came looking, but did not find them.

Rahab let the spies escape down the wall.

The spies promised to protect Rahab and her family.